This is true for core financial processes, as well. Yet procurement directors and CFOs alike must overcome the complexity of disparate legacy systems, changing regulations in global supply chains, collaborating within vast partner ecosystems and convoluted source-to-pay processes before they can capitalize on new opportunities in the digital marketplace.

Connected Logistics on Ariba Open API Platform

This solution enables you to automatically track your shipment, provide shortfall analysis against inventory and receive real-time notification about any potential freight delays and shortfall risks. This timely delivery information supports more intelligent decisions around scheduling, order fulfillment and modifying delivery options.

Ariba Network Extension on SAP HANA Cloud Platform

NTT DATA is the first partner in the SAP Ariba partner ecosystem to launch a supplier portal extension for Ariba Network, which provides seamless access to suppliers. The extended supplier portal also enables the buying organization and suppliers to exchange the engineering and part drawings, supplier quality, deviation requests and more.

iNVENTORY Lite based on SAP HANA Cloud Platform

NTT DATA's inventory solution offers a simplified approach for managing inventory and facilitates sourcing in purchasing. It can be used as a standalone application to support internal stores and to connect to commercially available ecommerce systems, without the need for elaborate ERP systems and other inventory management software.

Digital Contract Management

Our legacy migration tool for SAP Ariba transforms the entire validation process by eliminating manual processes, reducing validation errors and allowing the contracts to be searchable in SAP Ariba Contract Management. Everything is automated, from contract generation through final signatures.
